Meet the Salcitos!

meet your neighbors

By Elizabeth McCabe

Say Hello
to THE Salcito FAMILY!

Did you ever want to know more about your neighbors living down the street but didn't want to knock on their door and ask? That's why we have our Meet Your Neighbors Spotlight! This month we are proud to feature the Salcito family.

Rebecca and Anthony Salcito live and work here in the community. They are blessed with two children: Andre (12) and Beau (11). As a family, the Salcitos are all about fitness!

Rebecca and Anthony used to go on dates to the gym. Who would have guessed that working out could be so much fun? Afterwards, they would grab a taco or a burrito.

"Our lives have always been around fitness. We really enjoy being together," says Rebeca. Their children have followed in their footsteps in their pursuit of physical fitness.

Andre is a swimmer and recently swam at the Alcatraz Sharkfest Swim on June 4. He trains 12 hours a week in the pool, two hours a day for six times a week. As for Beau, he is a gymnast and works out three times a week for hours each time with his team.

Andre and Beau are "total beach kids," says Rebecca. They love to surf and ski. In fact, the Salcito likes to alternate vacations between surfing and skiing. They love to visit the Jersey Shore with its white sand beaches. Rebecca grew up in New Jersey and visits her family there each summer. For skiing, the Salcitos like to go to Vail, Colorado.

Rebecca loves hot yoga. That's how she likes to start her day. You can also find her at spin classes at the Village. She has always been a runner and even likes ballet barre. Growing up, she was a competitive horseback rider. In high school at a boarding school in Massachusetts, she did a number of sports: tennis, crew, and downhill skiing. After attending an art school in Philadelphia, she moved to Arizona and has been here ever since. She loves to have fun in the sun and she prefers it to the East Coast.

Anthony is a fitness fanatic too. He loves to lift weights at the gym. He also likes to run when he gets a chance. He has lived in Arizona since the young age of 7.

The Salcitos are all about family. They love to spend time together. To Rebecca and Anthony, the kids always come first. Both of their parents have celebrated (or are celebrating) their 50th wedding anniversary this year, which is impressive. Anthony's parents live right next door, which Andre and Beau love. They even eat breakfast with their grandparents each morning and drive them to school and other activities. Rebecca shares that their kids are surrounded by love. Anthony says, "I just want our kids to be happy. I just like to see them smile."

Andre will be attending the eighth grade at Cooper Ridge in August while Beau will be going into the sixth grade at El Dorado in August. While the kids don't know exactly what they want to do yet, both have high hopes for their futures. Andre wants to be an entrepreneur of some sort. Rebecca jokes that Beau thinks he is going to run the world one day. He is very sweet and has a lot of energy. There is a charisma about him.

Family traditions are near and dear to their hearts. Each Christmas, they take a nice family trip with Rebecca's brother. They have been to Steamboat Springs, Turks and Caicos, and the Dominican Republic.

One thing you might not have known about this tight-knit family is that Anthony's family is Italian while Rebecca's family is Jewish. Who would have guessed?

We are honored to feature the Salcito family in this month's issue. Be sure to say hello to them if you see them out and about. They would love to meet more friendly folks here in the neighborhood!
